FLOOD OF PROTESTS EXPECTED

Senate Subcommittee On Finance, On Second Thought, Decides That
 Flour and Meats Shall Remain Duty Free—Credit For Latest Move Belongs Chiefly to President Wilson.
 Senator Simmons' Announcement.

Washington, June 4.—On "second thought" the subcommittee on finance of the senate has decided that flour
 and meats shall remain on the free list, as in the Underwood bill. At the same time the "raw materials" that enter into their production—wheat, oats, cattle sheep and hogs—will enter the United States market free.
 Under the Underwood bill as it stands now cattle, sheep and hogs are taxed 10 per cent and wheat and oats 10 cents a bushel.

Thus the demand of the northwestern millers that the duties on grains
 and the duty on flour be "equalized"
 has been now met by making both free. In like manner there has been an equalization as regards live stock and meats by putting them both on the free list.

This is the most important move in the interest of the consumer that has been made since the Underwood bill left the house, and the credit for it belongs chiefly to President Wilson.
 He has stood for the free listing of grains and of cattle and other meat-producing animals in the face of great opposition from the farmers of the country. It was this feature of the Canadian reciprocity bill that brought a flood of protests in upon President Taft, and it is predicted that Mr. Wilson will be now subjected to the same kind of pressure.

Just about the time that the announcement of this important change
 was being made the department of agriculture was issuing a statement which forecasted that the price of beef and other meats of this country will increase steadily unless the American people learn to conserve the supply.

Constantinople, June 4.—Major

 here from the Moro islands in the Philippines to see if the sultan and Sheikh-Ul-Islam could not prevail upon their Mohammedan brethren there to cease their constant uprisings and settle down, was highly honored by the sultan. He was decorated with the order of Medjidieh in recognition of his services to the Mohammedans in the Philippines. The sultan has bestowed upon Major Finley an imperial irade recognizing him as a religious minister plenipotentiary of the Moros. Such a document is rarely given.

NEW MOVE AGAINST
 TOBACCO TRUST

McReynolds Suggests Graduated
 Internal Revenue Tax.

Washington, June 4.—The Wilson administration is planning a new move against the American Tobacco company. Attorney General McReynolds has proposed an amendment to the pending tariff bill levying an internal revenue tax on the manufacturers of tobacco, graduated in such a way as to fall more heavily on the large than the small concerns.

A consideration of this proposition
 and the decree entered in the tobacco trust case consumed practically the entire session of the cabinet.

Whether the Wilson administration is committed to the remarkable proposition suggested by the attorney general is not certain, but there was little doubt that some move is to be taken by the president and his advisers for the protection of the independent tobacco manufacturers. The renewed activity on the part of the federal government in regard to the American Tobacco company has been prompted by complaints that have been made by independents that the American Tobacco company has not been dissolved in accordance with the mandate of the supreme court, which held that it was a combination in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

SHOCKING TRAGEDY

SLEW WIFE AND SELF

Shocking Double Tragedy the Sequel
 of Domestic Strife.

Delaware, O., June 4.—Llewellyn
 Johnson, 37, farmer living eight miles west of here, slashed his wife's throat
 with a razor and then committed suicide with the same blade. The woman's head was nearly severed from her body. Six children survive. According to the children, Johnson and his wife had considerable domestic trouble. Mrs. Johnson filed suit for divorce last February, charging cruelty, but the case had not been heard.

POLICE AWAIT CONSIGNEES

Two Thousand Rifles Seized On Arrival at Belfast.

DISCOVERY CAUSES COMMOTION

Rank and File of the Unionists Declare the Consignment Is Part of Equipment of Loyalists, Who Intend to Resist the Inauguration of Home Rule—What the Nationalists Have to Say.

Belfast, June 4.—Custom officers
 here became suspicious of 12 large cases, which arrived from Manchester, were vaguely addressed and described as "electrical equipments." They opened the cases and found them full of rifles and bayonets. They then called in the police, who are now in charge of the consignment pending an inquiry.

The discovery of the arms and the seizure created an immense stir when it became known. Crowds flocked to the York dock, where the cases are held, to watch for developments, but nothing happened.

It is said that the cases contain about 2,000 rifles of modern foreign pattern. The address did not name any consignee. It was merely addressed "To Order," implying that there was a consignee. It is claimed that the rifles were brought on the small steamer Helen, which was chartered at Belfast.

The general belief is that the Orange campaign against home rule is responsible for the arms. The Unionist leaders decline to talk, but the rank and file declare that the consignment is undoubtedly a part of the equipment of the loyalists, adding triumphantly that they could afford to lose a few hundred, as an enormous consignment has already arrived here and the weapons are in the hands of those who will not hesitate to use them "if the government tries to condemn them to the tyranny of the Catholic Nationalists."

The home rule people, on the other hand, declare that the whole affair is a piece of theatricalism, either a practical joke or a political advertisement. The detention of the rifles is ascribed to the Dublin Castle authorities. A case of rifles was seized at Belfast a year ago under similar circumstances. Nobody claimed it, and it is not expected that anybody will claim the cases now being held by the police.

ATTACK GLASSCOCK

Socialist Leaders Exonerate Governor
 Hatfield of West Virginia.

Chicago, June 4.—Governor Hatfield of West Virginia is exonerated on a number of charges circulated against him in connection with the West Virginia coal strike, in a report to the national committee of the Socialist party made by Victor L. Berger, Adolph Germer and Eugene V. Debs, who made a personal investigation.

The burden of resentment in the report is directed against Governor Glasscock, Governor Hatfield's predecessor. It was Governor Glasscock, says the report, who was responsible for martial law and many atrocities
 which the report alleges occurred
 during his administration.

LOBBY EXISTS

MONEY NOT USED OUTRIGHT

Kenyon of Iowa Corroborates President Wilson's Statement That an Insidious Lobby Is Active, but Gives
 No Details or Names—LaFollette Testifies He Believes Influence of Lobbyists On the Wane.

Washington, June 4.—The senate investigators found two members of the upper house of congress who were willing to venture the belief that there is a "lobby" in existence
 against the tariff bill.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa expressed the conviction that President Wilson was right in the charges he has made that a powerful lobby was at work in Washington to hinder or prevent the passage of the Democratic tariff bill.
 Senator Kenyon could not give details or names. He did not believe that money was being used outright.
 The modern lobbyist, as the senator from Iowa sees him, wins his way through flattery and holding out promises of social advancement through giving elaborate social entertainments.

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin
 ventured the opinion that there are lobbies still in existence in Washington. He could not give names and was free to acknowledge that their influence had for a long time been on the wane, and that conditions today are much better than they were 25 years ago.

Many Democrats, including Senator
 Hughes of Mr. Wilson's own state, told the investigators that they had no knowledge of any illegitimate lobbying going on. Senator Hughes, however, was inclined to believe that the men who were seeking to bring about a change in the tariff bill were here in greater numbers and were more persistent than in 1909, when the Payne-Aldrich law was under consideration.

Several senators let it be known that they had received by registered mail what purported to be a reproduction of a letter from the American Cane Growers' Association of the United States, sent to members, asking for contributions to a fund for the use of "a large committee in Washington." The copy was dated New Orleans, April 2, 1913.

Subpenas were issued for more than 50 witnesses, most of whom are expected to testify as to the operations of the sugar lobby. It is supposed that the president supplied most of the names. The subpenas were issued for men identified with the propaganda that has been going on for a duty on sugar as well as for the free sugar advocates.

Socialist Editor Convicted of Inciting Hostility to Government.

Paterson, N. J., June 4.—Alexander
 Scott, editor of the Weekly Issue, a Socialist paper published in Passaic,
 was convicted by a jury in the county court of "inciting hostility to the government." The indictment was based on articles in which the Paterson police were held up to ridicule. In an issue of Feb. 28 Chief of Police Bin-son was referred to as "Bimsoh, the strikebreaker," and the police were called "the brass-buttoned anarchists of Paterson." A headline had Bin-son "overriding the government." The maximum penalty under the conviction is 15 years' imprisonment.

YOUNG GIRL SUES
 FOR $250,000

Claims She Was Mistreated By a New York Broker.

New York, June 4.—William Guy
 Peck of the stock exchange firm of Hilker & Company, who obtained a divorce two months ago from his second wife, after divorcing the first,
 and who is the son of Edward Peck,
 a wealthy resident of Stamford,
 Conn., must defend a suit for $250,000
 brought by Miss Olive Blanche Smyth, a 17-year-old girl, for alleged assault.

Miss Smyth's father was a Rochester merchant and she came here several years ago with her mother, Mrs.
 Blanche Graham Smyth, and is now living in this city. Miss Smyth, who has been on the stage for a short time, got permission from Supreme Court Justice Gerard to sue Peck
 through her mother, as guardian.

In her petition, filed by Frank Earl Parham, Miss Smyth alleges that on
 Jan. 17 last and on other occasions
 Peck maltreated, assaulted and seriously injured her, and that by virtue of his assaults she is still depressed.

Action Filed to Forestall Referendum
 On Tax Measure.

Columbus, O., June 4.—Serving the double purpose of attempting to forestall a referendum on the Kilpatrick tax measure, which changes the personnel of county budget commissions
 and removes the 1910 tax limitation, and to force a reorganization of the budget commission in time to act in making up the 1914 duplicate, is a suit in quo warranto filed in the supreme court by City Solicitor Schreiber of Toledo. It is to test a recent ruling of Attorney General Hogan that the law is subject to the referendum and therefore must lie with the secretary of state for 90 days, thus making it too late for budgets to be made up under the Kilpatrick law.

COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN STREET CARNIVAL SHOWS

Action Taken in Face Of Insufficient Funds

Executive Officers in Charge of Grand Army Encampment Call on Citizens of Washington for Donations to Assure Visiting Veterans the Grandest Entertainment of Their Lives. $500 Needed to Get over the Hill.

The executive committee of the G. A. R. Encampment met this morning with a representative of a street carnival company, now on exhibition at Bucyrus, who was anxious to enter into a contract to bring their shows to this city during the week of the Grand Army Encampment.

The committee was given its choice of a flat price or a percentage of the receipts, which from an attraction composed of about a dozen shows would probably amount to a considerable sum, but both offers were rejected by the committee. In all probability other offers from amusement concerns will be considered at an early date.

The cost of the Encampment to the Executive committee will be about three to five hundred dollars more than the subscriptions already made by the citizens of Washington, which deficit the committee is very anxious to wipe out in some manner. The members prefer that all the necessary funds be raised by our own citizens, and now that the first amusement offer considered has been turned down, the committee is turning to the people to "make good" and thus insure one of the grandest entertainments ever accorded the Grand Army veterans by any city in the state.

This encampment of the G. A. R. will be the last ever held in Washington and it behooves our people to hold up the hands of the committee in a way fitting and proper. Let everybody subscribe to the entertainment fund within the next day or two and thus relieve the committee of the necessity of skirmishing to secure funds to hold up the honor and glory of Washington on the occasion of her second entertainment of the surviving defenders of the Republic of the United States.

Chief McCoy was summoned by the mayor and given the order together with a minute description of the escaped prisoner.

In turn the night patrolmen received the "tip" and vigilance was on tap from that time on, but no one answering the description has yet been apprehended.

JURY AWARDS A LARGE SUM IN THE ACTION FOR DAMAGES

Jury in Case of Harmon Against Larrimer Laundry Company is Unanimous in Awarding $3250.00 to Plaintiff.

The jury in the case of Lottie Harmon against the Larrimer Laundry Company, after considering the case for something over two hours, returned a verdict late yesterday afternoon.

The jury found on the issues joined in favor of the plaintiff and fixed the amount of the damage she had sustained at $3250.00.

This is one of the heaviest verdicts awarded in a damage case in this county for a number of years, and although the case was tried under the new law of court procedure, which warrants a jury in returning a verdict when nine out of the twelve men concur in the finding. In this case all of the twelve jurors agreed on the verdict.

The case grew out of injuries sustained by Miss Harmon, an employee of the laundry company, while she was operating a heavy ironing machine.

In some manner, she claimed, by reason of defective construction of the machine her hand was caught and drawn under the heavy hot rollers of the machine, crushing and burning it in a horrible manner.

The case was hard fought on both sides and has attracted a great amount of attention.

DEMPESEY IS CHOSEN FOR IMPORTANT TASK

Attorney General Hogan has detailed Peter E. Dempsey, formerly of this city, special counsel in his office, to dissect the anti-lobby law and determine whether lobbyists who failed to file statements with the secretary of state within the prescribed 30 days are liable to prosecution. The secretary of state has been asked to furnish a list of those who failed to comply with the law.

George S. Long, former secretary to Governor Harmon, is held by the attorney general not to be liable for his failure to file a statement as representative of a railroad committee. Mr. Long had asked the attorney general for a ruling as to what items should be incorporated in his statement, but Mr. Hogan was unable to reach Mr. Long's request before the expiration of the 30-day time, thus holding up the report.

VIOLATIONS OF LIQUOR LAWS ARE CHARGED

Warrants have been served on Urban Allen, Guy Neer, Fred J. Schlegel and Mike Sullivan, of Mt. Sterling, charging violations of the anti-liquor laws. The affidavits were filed by Hon. A. T. Cordray, who will prosecute the cases, and services were made by Marshal Landy Hill, of Mt. Sterling, assisted by the sheriff of the county. The accused plead not guilty and furnished bond of $200 each for their appearance before Mayor L. E. Kober, at Mt. Sterling, at 10 o'clock next Monday morning.

Urban Allen and Mike Sullivan were in Mayor Pancake's court, Monday, on affidavits of Marshal Carter charging violations of the anti-liquor laws. They plead not guilty. Allen's hearing is set for the 12th and Sullivan's for the 16th of June.

SUBPOENAS ISSUED FOR SIXTY WORKERS WELL KNOWN MEN

Special to Herald.

Washington, D. C., June 4.—An entirely new phase was given to the Senate Lobby Investigation committee today when subpoenas were issued for 60 well known men, all identified with the sugar interests.

It is generally believed that President Wilson furnished the names. The men are required by the subpoenas to appear before the committee and tell what they know about the efforts to retain sugar on the tariff schedule and also to give a complete account of their activity in behalf of the sugar interests.

The colorless character which the investigation was assuming gave way to bright promise of stirring sensations ere the labors of the probe committee are concluded.

Much speculation has been aroused in official and political circles as to the outcome of this latest move.

They will be accompanied by a brass band, which will materially help in enlivening the occasion.

At the same time a total of 100 members of the Sons of Veterans, coming from various parts of the state, are expected to attend the encampment and pitch their tents, which will mean a veritable tented city. It is not definitely settled as to where the tents will be pitched, but a suitable place will be provided. Quite a number of the Reserves visited Washington on the occasion of the previous encampment.

USING DYNAMITE TO RECOVER GIRL'S BODY

A force of men working with dynamite is endeavoring to raise from Paint creek the body of Margaret McNutt, a 12-year-old girl who was drowned Saturday near Chillicothe. The little girl had gone on a picnic with Mrs. Gus Buchhammer and her son, Russell, and Miss Erdmann. She is supposed to have become dizzy while watching the swift current and fell in the water. The swift current carried her into water 14 feet deep and she was drowned, and Mrs. Buchhammer nearly lost her life in trying to rescue her. The son was some distance away, but ran to the scene and swam out to the drowning girl, but was too exhausted to hold her and she sank to her death. In the meantime his mother grabbed an overhanging branch and supported herself until the boy could find a long pole and pull her out. The child's parents reside at McArthur and the little girl was visiting the Buchhammer family.

IN SOCIETY

A very beautiful home wedding and of special interest from the prominence of the families of bride and bridegroom, took place at eleven o'clock Wednesday morning when Mabel Calvert, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Calvert, plighted her troth to Mr. Frank Blessing, son of Mrs. Ella Blessing, now residing in Chillicothe, Mo.

The impressive ring ceremony performed by Rev. T. W. Locke, of Columbus, was the culmination of a high school romance, budding to later maturity, and it was a wedding to which many warm friends could well offer sincere congratulations.

The bride is a lovely girl, her sweet and unaffected personality full of charm, and a talented musician. The bridegroom is a splendid fellow and able young business man, connected with the Washington Gas and Electric Light Co.

The handsome Calvert home was elaborately decorated with roses, carnations, snap dragons and greenery, banking the mantels and arranged throughout its spacious rooms and every appointment was carried out with exquisite taste.

The ceremony was performed in the reception room, in a luxuriant bridal bower of palms, ferns, white hydrangea and marquerites, sentinelled on either side by graduated white and gold floor vases, filled with white snap dragons, carnations and fern, and festooned together with white gauze ribbon and smilax.

Mrs. Morna Blessing Chapman played the wedding marches and prefaced the ceremony by playing "To a Wild Rose."

Two darling three year olds, Georgia Prue Chapman and Horace Davidson, of Columbus, the niece and nephew of the bridegroom, all in white, drew the gauze ribbons to form the aisle from the stairway to the bower.

The little niece of the bride, Jean Worthington, a beautiful golden-haired ring bearer, also in white, carried the ring in a basket of swansoni and fern.

Miss Ethel Calvert preceded her sister as bridesmaid, her striking brunette type set off by a beautiful gown of gray crepe de chine, draped over melrose messaline, with girdle of the melrose and trimmings of gold and shadow lace. She carried an armful of Ward roses.

The young couple followed and took their places before the waiting minister.

The bride wore her going away gown, a stunning tailored suit of new blue, with chiffon bodice of lighter shade, trimmed with real lace, and corsage of brides' roses, swansoni and fern. Her picture hat was of black hemp, with white ostrich feather and aigrettes.

After congratulations, sixty guests were served at the wedding breakfast, Easton catering.

The bridal table was exquisite. A wealth of roses and fern massed the center and at three corners were cut glass vases of white swansoni and fern, the fourth corner having a long spray of pink roses, tied with streamers of pink satin and gauze. The decorating throughout showed the skill of the florist, Mrs. Buck.

The wedding gifts were very handsome. Mr. and Mrs. Calvert will furnish completely the home for their daughter.

The bride's gift to her maid was a solid gold bar pin and to the children, small gold bar pins, set with pearls.

Mrs. Calvert received the guests in a becoming gown of gray shimmered chiffon, trimmed with black lace.

The young couple accompanied by Miss Ethel Calvert, Mr. Arch Riber and Edith Worthington, stole a march on the guests by slipping away in the Calvert car and motoring to Greenfield, where they took the train for Cincinnati. After a short trip on the Ohio river they will make their home with the Calverts until in July, when the Florence residence property in Millwood will be ready for their occupancy.

Among the guests from a distance were Mr. Moses Calvert, Mr. and Mrs. Will Calvert, Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Beam, Mr. and Mrs. Holliday, Mrs. Swishelm and daughter, Doris, of Hillsboro, Rev. and Mrs. T. W. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson and son, Horace, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hamilton, Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lewis, New Holland.

A large circle of friends throughout the county will be interested in the marriage of Miss Elva Hickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hickel and Mr. Bennett E. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Kelley, of Paint township, which took place at 8:30 Wednesday morning.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frederick E. Ross, of Grace church, at the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Kelley at 383, East Paint street, in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends.

It was an exceedingly pretty wedding. The new home, handsomely furnished and completely in readiness, was tastefully decorated in white and green, the bridal altar was built up of greenery against a background of white, formed of garlands of white roses.

The wedding music was an effective feature of the ceremony. Miss Faye Wood played the summoning march and Miss Jessie Baumgardner sang an original love song, "Sweet is Life With Thee," the words having been written by the bridegroom and set to music by the bride. Miss Baumgardner played the Mendelssohn march and the young couple took their places before the altar to the strains of the Lohengrin bridal chorus.

The pretty little niece of the bridegroom, Doris Kelley, in white, with pink sash, bore the ring in a tiny basket of roses.

The bride was a picture in her wedding robes and long veil, falling to the floor. Her gown was an elaborate creation of white satin, trimmings of lace and pearls, and she wore a corsage bouquet of white roses. A wreath of lilies of the valley, caught with the groom's gift a beautiful gold circlet set with pearls, fastened the veil to the bride's dark braids. She carried bride's roses, which she divided between her mother and the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride presented the bridegroom with a handsome diamond scarf pin.

After the ceremony an elegant four-course breakfast was served in the dining room. The table was beautifully decorated with center basket of white roses on a mound of green. Tiny gilt baskets filled with forget-me-nots and lilies of the valley were the guest favors.

The bride's going away gown was a suit of cream and blue bedford cord, with white embroidered voile waist and hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left on the 10:30 train for a week's lake trip, including Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, Mich., and other points.

After June the 15th they will be at home to their friends.

The bride is an attractive and accomplished young woman, as well as a gifted pianist. She graduated from the Stinson conservatory of this city, took the degree of Bachelor of Music at Lebanon, and finished her musical studies by a pipe organ course at the Ohio University of Athens.

The bridegroom is exceptionally well known as a wide-awake young reporter on the Daily Herald, and is a sterling fellow with a host of friends. He is also connected with the activities of the Y. M. C. A., Grace church and lodge organizations, and always ready to promote projects for civic forward movements.

A lovely June wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ellis, at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning, when their daughter, Jane, was married to Mr. Elston E. Bush, of the Allen Construction Co.

Radiant sunshine flooded the rooms graced with clusters of pink and white roses and greenery, and fifty guests witnessed the ring ceremony performed by an uncle of the bride, Rev. Jason Henkle, of the M. P. church.

A large bay window was converted into a bridal bower, banked with palms and ferns, and a big white bell and ropes of smilax formed an overhead canopy. It proved an effective background for the bridal tableau, which grouped while Miss Fantie Hyer played the Lohengrin wedding march, and followed with "A Melody" during the ceremony.

Two little nieces, Mary and Lucile Ellis, of Leesburg, strewed the bride's path with roses and a third little niece, Lillian Ellis, of Leesburg, bore in the ring in a small basket of white roses. The children all wore dainty white frocks.

Miss Lois Coffey was an exceedingly pretty maid in white crepe, with garniture of macreme lace, girdle of pink satin and corsage bouquet of pink roses.

The bridegroom and best man, Mr. V. R. Day, of Sabina, were in waiting at the altar and it was a very beautiful bride who waited to meet them. She wore a clinging, trained gown of white crepe meteor, trimmed with shadow lace, over which fell a long tulle veil, caught with the orange blossoms that had fastened her mother's wedding veil. Her shower bouquet was of bride's roses.

The bride's going away gown was of navy blue, with white Panama hat. Mrs. Ellis wore a handsome gown of cream crepe de chine, with Bulgarian and lace trimmings.

Caterers Green served a handsome wedding breakfast.

The pretty bridal table was decked with a bride's cake, containing a ring, thimble and dime, and white roses and smilax, caught with white tulle bows.

An array of beautiful gifts, cut glass, silver and china were in evidence. The bride's gifts to Miss Hyer and Miss Coffey were friendship pins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bush left on a two-weeks trip to the former home of the bridegroom in Parkersburg, W. Va., and resorts of the South. They have the best wishes of many relatives and friends as well as business acquaintances. During the past year the bride has efficiently filled the position of cashier at the Jesse W. Smith store and Mr. Bush is a member of one of the large business firms of our city.

Among the wedding guests from out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Day, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Dowden, of Sabina, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Henkle, Springfield, Mr. Otis Rowe, Dayton, Mr. Will Whitesel, Miss Forest Whitesel, of Greenfield; Mr. Macy Ellis and family, of Leesburg; Mr. W. L. Henkle, Miss Effie, Messrs. Will and Carey Henkle, of Selden.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Daugherty entertained Tuesday night and Mrs. Daugherty Tuesday afternoon with cards, to introduce Miss Margaret Geiger, of Troy, the fiancée of Mrs. Daugherty's nephew, Mr. Alexander Ballard, to Washington society.

Miss Geiger is a charming girl, who will be a genuine addition to the social circles of our city.

The beautiful home was a mass of summer bloom, roses of different variety, peonies, ragged robins and other blossoms in graceful profusion, and both affairs were characterized by perfect appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Daugherty and Mr. Alexander Ballard received with Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty and Miss Geiger.

Miss Ada Woodward was a charming young hostess Tuesday night, entertaining twenty-two couples of the younger set in compliment to Miss Marie Mobley, who leaves soon for her new home at Hot Springs, Ark.

The evening was delightfully gay, with dancing on the large veranda, illuminated with Japanese lanterns, and a clever original contest, by the hostess, introducing original high school jokes that greatly entertained the guests.

A big punch bowl proved an attraction in the dining room, the table embellished with burning tapers and roses.

Assisting were Misses Dorothy Fullerton and Margaret Marks.

Miss Woodward and Miss Mobley were both wearing white. Miss Willa Briggs, south of town, was a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pine entertained Tuesday with an enjoyable dinner. Covers were laid for ten. Roses and peonies formed decoration and the place cards were bright and original.

With Mr. and Mrs. Pine and their daughters were Supt. and Mrs. Wm. McClain, daughter, Eleanor, Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Ross and Mrs. Minnie Brown.

A Sturdy Old Horse

Few indeed are they in Fayette county who do not know of and feel a pride in the achievements of that splendid and honest old race horse, Major Mallow.

The people received the news that the old campaigner had dropped dead at the fair ground track on Tuesday afternoon, just after he had finished pacing a mile in 2:17, much as they would have heard that an old acquaintance had died.

Fifteen years old—up in years for a horse—Major Mallow was being conditioned for another campaign on the Grand Circuit tracks.

His owner and trainer announced this spring that his old "partner" in the racing game had never seemed to be in better health nor more willing and ambitious to circle the race track.

Sensible, honest, patient and wonderfully swift, this gallant old horse adapted himself to circumstances, took his defeats in the game as well as his victories with an apparent philosophy which made him seem possessed with almost human intelligence.

He was even tempered and entirely bidable in the hands of his trainer—never fretted nor rebelled—and to this trait, undoubtedly, was due the fact that year after year, Major Mallow was the class of the Grand Circuit.

The detail of his achievements is for experts to scan in other columns. It was with the horse himself and the general knowledge that he had made a name for himself that people generally were interested in. Each fall he would come home to Fayette county for the winter and every morning during the off-season in snow or rain he would travel the streets in his easy-going, unostentatious way until the school children all knew him and watched with admiring gaze the old hero as he passed by.

Homely when in repose, ungainly perhaps to see traveling at ease, he was the picture of grace, strength and perfect animal strength when at full speed.

He was one of the living, breathing creatures which brought face and honor to the place called his home.

It was here on the half mile track at the fair grounds that he began his eventful career and it was at home on that same track that he closed his career. Patriotic but fittingly ordered.

As the June sun was sinking behind a bank of storm clouds in the west they buried the sturdy old warrior on the hill at the west of the fair ground track, and in the years to come when the bell summons other horses to the speed ring, many will think of the achievements of Major Mallow, who finished the one great race at home, and wonder if another will some day come out from the ranks of obscurity and build up a record like his.

At night while the jockeys and grooms gather around the camp-fire and recount the tales of days gone by, perhaps the ghost of the old horse who sleeps on the hill will stalk among them and bring to mind again the glory of the days that have gone forever.

He was a grand old horse. He entered the race of life as a plow horse and finished it as a prince on the field of battle.

Cultivate In Children Their Instinct to "Make Believe"

By CONSTANCE D'ARCY, Originator of Plays and Pageants For Children

IF we educate the children of today to CARE FOR THE BEST DRAMA we shall be educating the audience of tomorrow, and then there will not be the hue and cry about the nonappreciation of good plays as there is today.

CHILDREN ARE TAUGHT THE POETRY OF STEVENSON AND LONGFELLOW WHEN THEY ARE LITTLE IN THE HOPE THAT WHEN THEY ARE OLDER THEY WILL LOVE SHAKESPEARE AND SHELLEY. SO WHY SHOULDN'T THEIR DRAMATIC TASTE BE EDUCATED AS WELL? I BELIEVE THAT THAT IS QUITE AS IMPORTANT.

As I have studied youngsters and tried to find out what most appealed to them, I have discovered that with the INSTINCT OF "MAKING BELIEVE," the natural dramatic feeling striving for expression, they have certain definite likes and dislikes. For one thing, although they are not always enthusiastic about stories with a moral, they do like plays with a moral—in fact, they seem to prefer them, in which they are quite unlike grownups. And it seems to me that ACTING PLAYS IN SCHOOL OR CLUB is a pastime which has much to recommend it.

It is the girl instinct always to want to "DRESS UP" IN GROWNUPS' CLOTHES, but did you ever see a small boy parading up and down the street in his father's swallowtail coat? He would be ashamed to be seen in it. But give him an INDIAN COSTUME OR A POLICEMAN'S SUIT and he is gloriously happy.

Poetry For Today

FORENOON BY THE PACIFIC.

The winds are far away,
The sea alone hath speech.
The kildrees play
In little hollows of the kelp-strewn beach.
Beyond, a wisp of fog has come to rest
Upon the mountain's breast.

Here from a western steep
I watch the sea-gull soar;
Below, the deep
Darts a white chord along the curving shore
And brings the day with thunder. At my feet
The unshaken dews are sweet.

The hour is full of peace
Too tenderly profound
To fail or cease
At any call of lark, or ocean-sound
Where lonely waters meet a lonelier sky
The winds of morning die.

But hark! what merriment
Makes happier the place?
Young laughter, blent
In elfin music, as the children race
Far off along the foam-edge of the sands,
And toss their sunburnt hands.

By George Sterling

Miss Celeste E. Scott, of Jeffersonville, presented us with a carefully written essay (fifteen stanzas in length) on "Is There Not a Better Way". The main object of the essay seemed to be to show up the physical, intellectual and moral aspect of dancing as a social amusement and to point out a number of ways which are better. A few of our dancing and thoughtless young folks will not be very well pleased with the essay but it will meet the views of the moral and thoughtful and we think will raise a timely and valuable discussion of this matter.

TO ESCAPE INCOME TAX

Mutual Insurance Companies Will Have to Show They Are "Mutual." Washington, June 4.—The mutual insurance companies, in order to escape the payment of an income tax, probably will be put to the necessity of affirmatively proving to the satisfaction of the internal revenue officers of the government that they are actually "mutual." The present temper of the substitute committee that is considering the income tax provision as well as that of the other Democratic leaders, is that the tax should apply automatically to all insurance companies, with the provision that any company that could establish to the satisfaction of the government it is actually "mutual," and not merely nominally so, may supply the proofs and obtain the exemption.

DEPARTMENT OF OHIO G. A. R. PARADE

THE Ohio State Grand Army Encampment was held at Washington, C. H., Ohio, eight years ago, and the above represents the Grand Army Day parade, with the courthouse in the background. The crowd that day was estimated at 30,000. The G. A. R. State Encampment will be held at Washington, C. H., again this year, June 16 to 20, inclusive. Elaborate preparations for the event are being perfected by the G. A. R. and auxiliaries, the railroads and the people of Washington, C. H. Commander Blodgett of Cincinnati is expecting the coming encampment to be one of the biggest and best in the history of the department. There will be several gorgeous parades and numerous campfires. A score of noted orators will speak. The public and private decorations will be elaborate, including a Court of Honor that has never been surpassed in beauty in Ohio. Everybody is cordially invited, whether a soldier or not, as ample preparations are being made to entertain all visitors.

HEAVY RAINS STOP WORK IN THE FIELDS

In Many Instances Wheat is Injured by Heavy Blow of Sunday and Rains Tuesday. Southern Section of the County Deluged.

Washington and Fayette county were visited by heavy rains Tuesday evening.

The storm clouds came from the West and Northwest. Rain began falling in the city about six o'clock in the evening and a succession of heavy showers followed with short intermissions until ten o'clock at night, when a cool breeze set in from the North and cleared the sky of rain clouds.

In the western and southern portions of the county the rainfall was extraordinarily heavy. The small streams and road side ditches were running brim-full on Wednesday morning.

Plowing in the fields has been made entirely impossible for several days, even if no more rain falls.

In many instances the corn needed plowing badly before the heavy rains of Tuesday came on. In some cases the high winds of Sunday morning, taken in connection with the heavy rains of Tuesday have inflicted no little damage to the fine growing wheat. So far no destruction of property or live stock by lightning has been reported.

HIDDEN IN BASS VIOL MAN CROSSES LINE

Escapes Serving In Austrian Army by Novel Means.

Canton, O.—Peter Cocan, thirty-six years old, was literally carried away by music. He reached Canton from Lisza, Hungary, after crossing the Hungarian border in a huge bass viol on the back of a husky Romanian disguised as a gypsy musician.

Cocan brought first hand stories of the warlike preparations of Austria-Hungary for hostilities with Montenegro. He was himself drafted to serve in the army. He was just about to leave for America. He did not want to serve. Efforts to obtain passports failed. Each time he attempted to cross the border he was turned back by Hungarian soldiers who patrol the frontier.

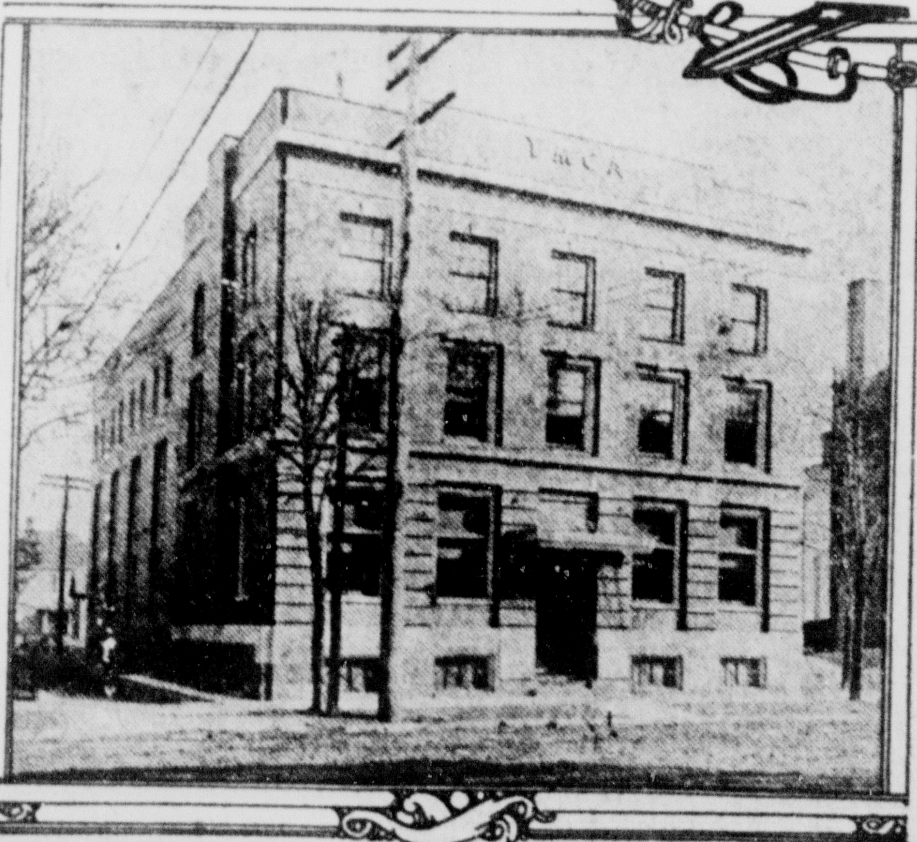

Determined to come to Canton at all hazards, he hit upon the plan of concealing himself in the bass viol. A companion concealed himself in a bass drum. Friends disguised as itinerant musicians carried them over the frontier.

At one time they were stopped by a party of soldiers, who compelled the musicians to play upon the instruments in which Cocan and his companion were concealed. They escaped detection at this time, and after crossing the border they walked several miles to a railroad.

"It was a thrilling experience," said Cocan, who has taken a job in a Canton mill. "As I lay in the big bass viol I could hear the musicians parleying with the soldiers. Soon I heard a scraping of the strings. They played a popular song. Then the soldiers allowed us to depart over the border in peace, and we were safe."

STUDENTS' LEAGUE CONCLUDES SEASON FRESHMEN WINNERS

The third successful season in the local Students' Baseball league came to a close last Friday at the conclusion of the game between the Freshmen and Sunnyside. The game was won by the Freshmen and with that victory came the title of champions for the third time, an honor carrying with it the absolute ownership of the silver cup trophy.

The trophy was donated by Walter W. Hamilton three years ago and under the rules it must be won three times by one club before absolute ownership passed.

The Freshmen team has finished first in the league three successive years.

This year Sunnyside finished second, Central third and Cherry Hill fourth.

The management of the league are profuse in their expression of thanks to the Athletic Baseball team, who kindly donated the use of their splendid diamond and grounds to the Students' league.

CHILD'S NEW MOUTH SURGICAL TRIUMPH

Flesh Grafted From Abdomen
Forms Lips and Chin.

Baltimore.—After many weeks of treatment the rebuilding of a little girl's chin and the restoration of her mouth to normal proportions after they had been terribly distorted by burns have been completed at the Johns Hopkins hospital here.

The child's clothing had taken fire while she was playing about a gas stove, and the flesh on her face was seared to such an extent that when the wound healed only a small hole was left where the mouth had been. So small was the opening that the little finger could be inserted with difficulty. Nothing was left of the chin but the bone and a covering of seared flesh.

The child's mother offered all the skin necessary for grafting, but the surgeon decided on another plan.

A large flap of flesh was cut from the child's abdomen, one side being left attached to the body. Then a slit was made in the arm of the patient sufficiently large to allow the insertion of the raised end of the flesh of the abdomen. This was done to establish circulation in the abdominal flesh.

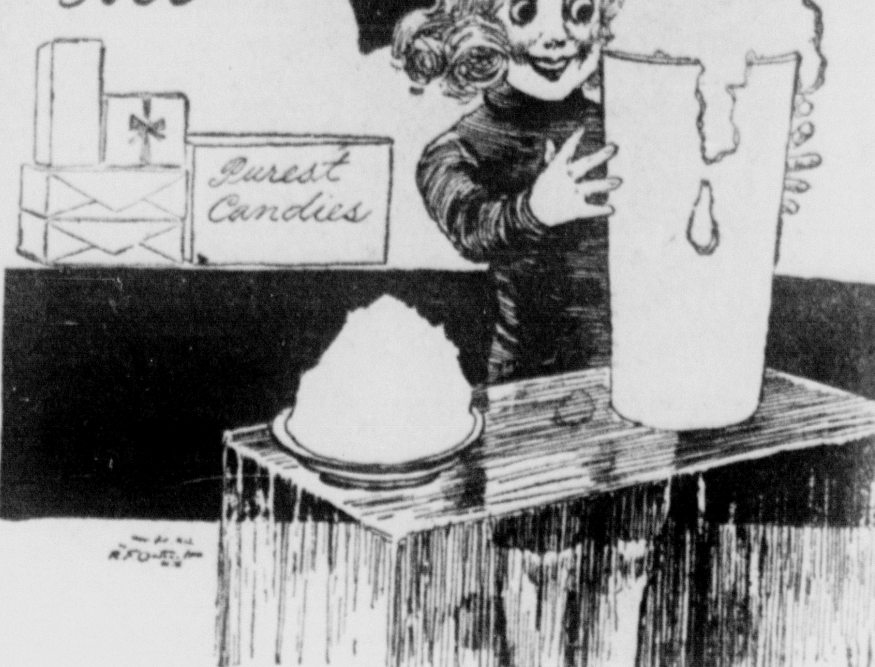

After weeks that part of the flesh attached to the abdomen was cut and the child's arm with the flap of flesh growing to it was raised and the part that formerly had been joined to the abdomen was joined to the lips and chin from which the seared flesh had been cut. For weeks blood flowed from the child's arm into the bridge of flesh from the abdomen and then into the chin and lips.

When circulation had been established the child's arm was cut from her chin and allowed to return to its normal place.

The new flesh was then attached to the chin. A small hole had been cut in it to allow the child to be fed. Later a mouth was cut in the mass of flesh and then the chin was rounded out.

When the child was discharged from the hospital she could eat, talk and move her jaws as well as any of her companions. It is only upon close examination that the new chin can be discovered.

Gee! it looks good!

Spring Lamb Chops for Breakfast

are always appetizing and when they come from Barchet's Market they are particularly tender and delicious, for a perfect lamb chop when properly cooked has a delicious flavor and taste to it that is not excelled by any other meat. But no matter how well cooked they are, chop like any other meat must be up in quality or it will be insipid, which is equally true of any fresh meat. Therefore you must have a reliable butcher to give your cook a chance.

YOUNG PITCHERS CROWD VETERANS HARD

Hub Purdue of Boston Braves.

Extremes in age—baseball age—have been prominent in the big league pitching this season, prominent by effective work. Such pitchers as Mathewson and Plank are arguments in favor of reversing the fixed custom and building up with age. Each has begun the 1913 year with a display of form up to anything displayed in more youthful times, as if the further away from youth they get the more youthful they become.

We find a considerable number of veterans going along with no apparent diminution in skill and effectiveness, among them Mathewson, Plank, Ames, Hughes, Rucker, Walsh, White, Falkenberg, Sallee, Richie and Camnitz. If any of these men have gone back nothing that has happened this year is a symptom to that effect; and if any or all of these men have passed the inevitable time at which a pitcher begins to go the other way the signs of that retrogression are hard to discover and the retrogression very slow. Crack pitchers such as Matty, signs in the way of effectiveness, but which to all outward appearance maintain an almost level standard of excellence.

But the king is dead; long live the new king. The 80's were in another century. The year 1913 A. D. not only finds veterans going at their best, but has brought out dashes of tip top work by youngsters. Notable among these are Seaton, Keating, Demaree, Peritt, Mayer, Russell and Johnson (the Indian), all of whom have pitched one or more games of conspicuous excellence. Also such pitchers as Hub Purdue, Gregg, Alexander, Weisman, Allen, Steen, Hendrix and Robinson comparatively late comers, are going well.

CAREER WAS SPEEDY

Roscoe Miller's Short Stay in Major League Company.

Recent Death Recalls Somewhat Sensational Rise and Extremely Rapid Decline of Pitcher at One Time With Detroit.

News of the death of Roscoe Miller, near Coryden, Ind., his home, will awaken memories in the minds of fans who recall the somewhat sensational rise, and extremely rapid decline, of a pitcher who at one time promised to be one of the brightest luminaries of major league baseball. Miller had but one really successful season, apart from a good year in the minors. His luck left him when he deserted the club that had given him his first chance, Detroit, and the only town in which he ever completed a major league season.

It was in 1901, the year that the American league invaded the east, that Miller gained recognition as a coming star. Detroit carried a small pitching staff that year, Miller, Siever, Cronin and Yeager being its dependencies, with Miller the strongest right-hander of the lot. He had much to do with placing the team third in the race.

Miller's success, in a way, went to his head, and he was susceptible to advances that were made to him the next year, when National league emissaries sought to induce him to jump. He was induced to believe that Detroit was not using him as it should, and when the Baltimore blow-off came, most of the players of that team going to New York or to Cincinnati with Kelley, Miller, who was at Washington with the Tigers, was induced to join those who jumped to the Giants. And that move was the real end of his career.

With New York he was never able to do any of the pitching that had enabled him to win games for Detroit. Before the season ended he was given his release. Pittsburgh claimed him, but his stay with the Pirates was brief, and he was not listed among those who finished the year. That ended his career in the majors. He went to the minors and had one season in which his work was so good that it looked as if he had come back.

But no one who was looking for pitchers seemed to have faith in him. He was left in the little leagues. Miller became moody and despondent over his failure to get back, took to drink, and then tuberculosis finally claimed him.

Must Stop Smoking

Joe Tinker has ordered all the Reds to stop smoking from now on until the end of the season. Many managers have tried this before, but with indifferent success. It is hard to enforce such a ruling on a big league club.

George Suggs, the former Tiger twirler, now the Reds' star, had to pay $10 for ten minutes' sleep. Suggs was ten minutes late in appearing at the park. "Time is valuable," said Joe Tinker, as he slapped the fine on Suggs.

City Charter For Washington?

If The People of This City Desire to Avail Themselves of a New Form of Government, Here Is Another One of the Methods of City Government That May Be Adopted.

The City Manager Plan

In principle, the city manager plan is the same as the commission plan of municipal government. It is a purely business system, and, like the commission plan, is patterned after the form of management used in corporations. It is devised with the needs of a small city in view.

In the city manager plan, a commission is elected, as in the commission plan, but the salaries paid the commissioners are only nominal. The commission in turn employs an expert on the management of municipal affairs, and the management of the city is placed in his hands. He is responsible for every part of the city government. He supervises affairs in the fire, police, health, service and other departments.

He is responsible only to the commission. In turn, the commission is responsible to the people, and the members of that body may be recalled at any time by the voters. The commission is the legislative body; it makes up the budget for the expenditures of the city, it appropriates money for the different departments, and passes all ordinances. As in the commission form of government, the voters control the legislative acts of the commission through the initiative and referendum.

In Ohio, there is a modified form of the city manager plan, in the public school system. The board of education corresponds to the commission, and the superintendent of schools to the city manager. However, the acts of the boards of education in Ohio are not subject to the initiative or referendum, and the members of the board cannot be recalled, hence, the city manager plan contains elements which have never been tested in Ohio.

Sumter, South Carolina, and Lakewood, New York, are governed upon the city manager plan, and Dayton is considering adopting it.

Next to the plan of government for a city, the most important consideration is how the officers are to be chosen. In recent years, the short ballot has become a vital element in this portion of the problem of municipal government. The short ballot will be discussed tomorrow evening.

Berlin En Fete For Kaiser's Silver Jubilee After Wedding

BERLIN remained en fete after the wedding of the Princess Victoria Louise, the emperor's daughter, and Prince Ernst August of Cumberland because of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the kaiser's accession to the throne about the middle of June. Many European notables who were at the ceremony May 24 remained at the capital for the silver jubilee. As brilliant as was the wedding of the couple, German aristocracy and its guests expect the kaiser's celebration to be more magnificent.

MARBLE STATUE HELD A GREEK MASTERPIECE.

Rome, June 4.—A life-size ancient marble statue was accidentally discovered recently while a road was being built along the banks of Lake Albano. The contractor hid the statue, intending to smuggle it out of the country. Some of the workmen, however, told the police, who seized the statue. It is armless, but has been identified as that of an Opheus (a youth who has just entered upon his manhood). It is regarded as a Greek masterpiece.
